Press Release:

Change of leadership for the Certification Body PPE

The Certification Body PPE (Notified Body 1726)

Since its founding in 2006, the Certification Body for Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) at TESTEX has been managed by Adrian Meili. During that time, the business area evolved, the team grew continuously and many interesting projects were completed. After supervising the business area for 11 years, Adrian Meili will now focus his efforts on the sustainable textile production within the TESTEX Group. In his position as Group Product Manager and STeP Lead Auditor, he is responsible for the products MADE IN GREEN by OEKO-TEX®, STeP by OEKO-TEX® and DETOX TO ZERO by OEKO-TEX®.

Transfer of responsibility for the Certification Body PPE

“Finding a suitable succession as manager for the Certification Body PPE was of great importance to me. Thus, I am happy to announce, that we have found a highly competent and skilled successor in Marco Meneghini as our new Team Leader Technology. We are certain the department is in very capable hands with him. At this point, I would like to sincerely thank you for the continuously constructive dialogue, your great trust and the pleasant collaboration.” Says Adrian Meili about his succession.

Personal data

Marco Meneghini has graduated a tertiary education with an Advanced Federal Diploma of Higher Education in Business Administration at TEKO Olten. He also brings long-term experience in the textile- and chemical field and was last employed as a Hazard Communication Expert at Syngenta. His previous career stops include companies like Huntsman Textile Effects and Ciba Specialty Chemicals Inc. Following his recruitment in February 2017 as Team Leader Technology, he now assumes responsibility for the Certification Body PPE.

Mr. Meneghini and his team look forward to continuing the good collaboration with you and are happy to assist you with any matter regarding the certification of personal protective equipment.
